01. Reasons for Account Restrictions by Meta

To help protect people from poor experiences and support meaningful connections, we monitor and investigate the behavior of advertisers and sellers on Meta technologies. In certain scenarios, we may place restrictions on businesses that limit their ability to advertise or sell on Meta technologies.

We may apply restrictions on businesses in the following scenarios:

- They don't follow the Community Standards, Meta Advertising Standards, Commerce Policies or other policies and terms.
- We suspect an account has been compromised or hacked. Learn more about how to secure a hacked account.
- They don’t meet our two-factor authentication requirements for account security.
- An advertiser is new, in which case we may apply limits on how much an advertiser can spend each day or which features they can access until we can be sure they’re consistently following our policies.

02. How to check whether the account got restricted or not?

Step 01
Visit https://web.facebook.com/business-support-home/

Step 02
You can switch the account from the business account to your personal account in order to confirm whether there are any restrictions on both accounts.

Step 03
If there are any restrictions in your account it will show like this

03. How to troubleshoot the account from restriction?

In the Meta Business Support Home section, take the recommended steps for your account. They may ask you to:

- Confirm your identity.
- Complete verification.
- Secure your account.
- Request a review.

Depending on the type of account restriction and the stage you're at in the process, you'll have different steps to take in the Meta Business Support Home section.

Confirm your identity

Some of the following items may be required for confirmation:

- Email address associated with your account.
- Your mobile phone for SMS text.
- Photo of your ID, such as a passport or driver's license.
- Payment method associated with your account.

If no further action is required, your account will be reinstated once your identity is confirmed. Otherwise, you may need to return to the What you can do section in Account Quality and follow the recommended next steps.

Note: Once you begin the confirmation process, you may need to complete it within a certain timeframe.

Non-Government IDs

We understand that your authentic name may not be represented on an official, government-issued ID, or you may not have access to this type of document.

If you can't provide a government ID, you can send us 2 different non-government IDs instead.

Keep in mind:

- Anything that you send us must include your name.
- At least 1 of the 2 documents should include your date of birth and/or photo.
- The name on the items that you send must be the same name that you want to show on your profile.

If you've lost access to your account, you may be asked to provide something from the list that also shows a photo or date of birth that matches the details on your Facebook account. This extra precaution helps us ensure that only you have access to your account.

Not Recommended

05. How to take pictures of ID that need to be submitted to Meta.

Your government-issued ID needs to:

- Include your name, photo, and date of birth
- Match the first and last name on your profile
- Match your profile picture (must show your full face)

Tips for uploading IDs

When you take photos of your government-issued ID to confirm your identity, make sure you:

- Use a well-lit area.
- Place your ID on a flat surface with a contrasting background.
- Make sure you can clearly read the text in the photos.

We may not accept your ID photos if they are:

- Too blurry.
- Too dark or not taken in a well-lit room.
- Missing the required information.
- A picture of a screenshot or a photo-copied ID.
- Not properly visible with all four corners in the frame.
